RAILROAD MEN ALIGN WITH MINERS

United Mine Workers Secure Pledges of Support From Leaders

REPRESENT 4,000,000

Strike Appeal Goes to Non-Union Forces in Many Mines

CLEVELAND, March 25.—Close alliance between the four million railroad workers of the country and the 600,000 coal miners during the miners' strike called for midnight March 31 was apparent today.

Action which will be taken by the railroad unions during the mine strike was problematical.

The general policy committee of the United Mine Workers was on record as having unanimously approved the call for strike of coal miners.

The railroad employes include 2,500,000 members of the "big four" brotherhoods and thousands of railroad shop craftsmen, telegraphers and maintenance of way men.

Possibility of probable concerted action by rail and mine workers are based on the following significant developments at the miners' meeting here.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, obtained the promise of W. S. Stone, chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, as a "rail chief and citizen," to support and assist the miners.

Lewis remained in Cleveland today to confer with W. L. Lee, chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and possibly officials of other railroad brotherhoods.

Twenty thousand Norfolk and Western railroad shop crafts employes announced a sympathetic strike on the railroad that is said to carry 80 per cent of the non-union coal mined in the United States.

A resolution urging 200,000 non-union miners in the United States and Canada to unite with the union miners in the strike was on its way to the miners.

GOVERNMENT PREPARES

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The government has decided on a program of protection for the public during the walkout of miners scheduled to start one week from today.

At midnight March 31 the government will issue a communication to federal agents throughout the nation outlining its course of action during the tie-up.

The government will:

1—Order all agents to protect mining property against any violence.

2—Warn both sides against violence and declare the attitude of the government as "impartial" except insomuch as the public interests are concerned.

3—Ask co-ordination of civic and state authorities in the enforcement of law.

4—Announce the miners must not interfere with miners who want to work if the operators choose to keep the mines open.

BUS LINE BRIEF READY FOR BOARD

C. D. Gulick Prepared to File Argument With L. A. and P. E.

After two weeks' work of securing data regarding the efficiency and accommodations of the Pacific Electric cars operating between Glendale and Los Angeles, C. D. Gulick, transportation manager for the city has prepared his briefs and is ready to file them Monday. In accordance with a request from the Board of Public Utilities of the city of Los Angeles these briefs will be filed Monday, one copy with the board and another with the Pacific Electric. Five days will be allowed for an answer and then it is expected that the Board of Public Utilities will render a decision as to whether or not Glendale will be granted a permit to operate a municipal bus line between Glendale and Los Angeles. The reason for the need of a permit from the city of Los Angeles is that the line will have to operate on the streets of that city and will maintain a terminal office there.

People have been working for the past two weeks gathering data regarding the efficiency of the service that the street car company is giving in Glendale and Mr. Gulick says that he believes he has a case that is sufficiently strong to secure the granting of a permit by the Board of Public Utilities.

Spirit of Spring Is Theme of Philosopher in "Listening Post"

"Life with us all has its winter days," says James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" tonight. "Its springtime, days of dullness, chill and dreariness. Then the coming of the impulse, a quickening and stirring of sap. Out of it all, beauty, deeds done, words spoken, happiness brought and help rendered—spring blossoms of the spirit."

You will find "The Listening Post" in this paper tonight and every night with its inspiration, its clear reasoning, its sound philosophy and its very human appeal. You can't afford to miss the good things in life and you can't afford to miss this splendid feature. Read it.

VALLEY BOULEVARD ASSOCIATION SPEEDS UP

Meeting Called for Monday Night to Consider Vital Matters

A meeting of the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association will be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the offices of William Griffin, 806 South San Fernando boulevard. Unusual interest is being manifested in the meeting. There are a number of things to come before the session that are of vital interest to the San Fernando boulevard as a whole.

"This association has accomplished a great deal since its organization," said L. H. Wilson, secretary, this morning, "but it is expected that in the future greater things will be done than were ever dreamed of in the past. We are going to make things hum down along this boulevard. We have an excellent section and we know it. It only remains for us to bring our locality to the attention of the prospective investor. Just watch the San Fernando boulevard district. It will do some growing during the next few months."

PARENTS GUESTS OF SONS AT 'Y' BANQUET

Boys Usher Forebearers Into Social Hall of Presbyterian Church

The Glendale Y. M. C. A. group, under the splendid leadership of W. G. Boyd, entertained their parents at a banquet Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church.

At the hour of 6:30 every boy member of the group stood between his father and mother and ushered them into the social hall, where they found the dinner tables artistically decorated with wild peach blossoms and smiliax. Covers were laid for 50 guests. At each place was found a folded card, which announced the purpose of the banquet and which contained the menu and program for the evening.

Lyle McAllister, president, then called the meeting to order and John Heideman returned thanks.

Immediately following the dinner Mrs. T. W. Preston responded with a little talk of appreciation from the mothers, after which Ed M. Lee spoke for the fathers, paying high tribute to Mr. Boyd, the leader for his undying efforts with the boys.

Paul McAllister then talked on "What We Do One Night Each Week." This was followed by a sample of the evening's program where the boys gathered around their leader and the regular evening's program of business and study was held.

Rev C. Kelley, local Y. M. C. A. secretary, then spoke on "What Other Groups Do." He also spoke of the splendid work of the leaders who were giving of their time so freely in order that their son might grow into better boys.

This was followed by games, in which, fathers, mothers and sons all participated and they closed a wonderful evening in the history of the Glendale Y. M. C. A.

COUNTY AID FOR LEGION HALL URGED

Supervisor Wright Tells Glendale Post it Can Be Legally Secured

SMOKER IS SUCCESS

Legionaires Hear From Chief of Police Everington

One of the best attended sessions of the Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, was the smoker given to former service men last night at the Legion hall on East Broadway. This was the second affair of the kind that the local post has given this year.

A brief business session was held before the program of the evening was started. The members of the post were told that the American Legion is forming a baseball league among posts of Los Angeles county. Similar leagues are being formed in the other counties of the state. The winning team of the Los Angeles county league will go to San Jose in May to play for the state American Legion baseball championship.

The Red Cross has been invited to attend the radio concert to be given by the Legion on the night of April 7. Last night a communication was read from that organization announcing that the entire board of directors of the organization would attend.

One of the features of the meeting next week will be the monthly initiation. Chief of Police John D. Fraser will be initiated on that night. On Monday night, April 3, the women's auxiliary of the Legion will hold an open house in the Legion hall, this to start at 7:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Supervisor Henry W. Wright was the principal speaker last night, and he talked to members and their friends on county affairs. He said the most important work of the county at present was that which is being done among the poor people of the county. He said that even more important that the work of caring for the poor and delinquent was the work of prevention among this class. He said that at present the county is maintaining 1200 beds at the county hospital and 1000 beds at the poor farm.

In addition to these there are at present 150 inmates of the home for delinquent children that is being maintained by the county. At present the county is caring for 50 delinquent girls at the El Retiro home, and 150 cases are being cared for at the county tuberculosis sanitarium, Olive View, near San Fernando.

Mr. Wright cited these cases and the work that is being done by the county to relieve suffering among the poor. He said that at present, in addition to the cases mentioned above the county is caring for 4000 families that are destitute, either through the sickness of the wage earner or by the desertion of one or both parents. He said that there should be some way of curing these evils.

Supervisor Wright also discussed with the members the proposal for the county to assist the American Legions of the various towns in securing finances for meeting halls. He stated that the state has ruled that the counties can assist the Legion in the raising of funds for building purposes but that to date Los Angeles county has taken no steps toward working out a plan for giving this assistance. Several suggestions as to how this aid could be given were made by members of the Glendale post and it is possible that some action may be taken soon.

Chief of Police Everington of Los Angeles also addressed the members and talked along the lines of Supervisor Wright. He said that the work of preventing crime and destitution is more important than the work of curing and relieving it. Members of the post also talked along the same lines.

VOLSTEAD LAW STIRS JAIL MAKERS

News travels fast. Thursday night the city council adopted an ordinance whereby violators of the Volstead act arrested in Glendale will be prosecuted here and the fines turned over to the city. Violators will be fined and in the failure to pay the fine will be sentenced to a jail term.

This morning a letter to Mayor Spencer Robinson from an iron manufacturing company in the east stated that the heads of the firm had learned that the city of Glendale is planning to build a new jail and requested particulars so they could bid on supplying the cells and iron work.

The letter was turned over to the city manager, W. H. Reeves, who said: "That is some speed. I suppose the fact that the city has adopted the Volstead ordinance creates the belief that the city will need a new jail."

Make Glendale Capital of Motorists' Paradise

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Prosperity Editor Glendale Daily Press

Glendale occupies a strategic position in the MOTORISTS' PARADISE of Southern California. It is the HUB of an important system of paved highways between mountains and sea. A large part of the rich San Fernando valley looks to it for automobiles and supplies.

John H. Gerrie

It is on the main through motor road between the north and the south. It commands the favorite routes into the canyons and passes of the foothills and is the natural GATEWAY to the scenic marvels of the Sierra Madre mountains.

On Sundays and holidays thousands of automobilists bowl through Glendale in steady procession, en route to valley points, to foothill resorts and to seashore. Other thousands skim along the edge of Glendale, within the city but scarcely knowing it. These are by far in the greater number, traveling along the San Fernando road between Los Angeles and points in the San Fernando valley or to the north of it.

Recently the question has been raised whether Glendale is DERIVING THE BENEFIT she ought from the tens of thousands of automobile tourists who every week, in fine weather, come within the city's limits. Perhaps no other city outside of Los Angeles commands such a stream of outdoor travelers. But how many of those travelers see anything of the REAL GLENDALE?

Those who keep to San Fernando road in their north and south touring see only the outposts of the city and outposts give no sign of the real character of the community. Many of these never know they are anywhere near Glendale. Its BEAUTIES ARE UNKNOWN to them and they carry away no advertisement of it. And Glendale BUSINESS is not in one iota benefitted by the passage of thousands of cars over the excellent roads it helps to maintain.

This subject recently has been talked over by some of the progressive automobile dealers in this city. They are largely of opinion that Glendale is LOSING a WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY for exploitation of the

GROWTH SWAMPS STREET WORK OF GLENDALE

City Manager Faced With Necessity of Accomplishing Impossible

"The city of Glendale is faced with the necessity of having to achieve the impossible in the matter of securing funds for street work that is needed because of the increased growth of the city and it will do it," said City Manager W. H. Reeves this morning in a conference with E. F. Sanders, assistant secretary of the Glendale chamber of commerce. Mr. Sanders had called upon Mr. Reeves representing the chamber of commerce to learn what action the city is taking on the proposed license ordinance for this city and what is being done in the matter of street work.

Mr. Reeves told Mr. Sanders that no action has been taken on the matter of adopting the license ordinance and that the city council is going to discuss it at its next meeting on Monday night.

Mr. Reeves explained to Mr. Sanders that street work in Glendale is being done as fast as possible he stated that already proceedings have been started to do work on 100 streets and that as soon as the requirements of the law have been fulfilled work will be started. He said that the legal requirements generally take at least 90 days before work can be started he explained to Mr. Sanders that by speeding up the work by even one day would invalidate the entire proceedings.

Mr. Reeves said that in the event that all of the property owners along a street signed a petition asking street improvements that the legal procedure could be done away with and work started at once but the failure of one property owner to sign this petition forces the legal procedure.

Mr. Reeves said that the one thing that has delayed street work in Glendale is the fact that city has increased to such an extent during the past year that budget set aside has been exhausted. Nothing more can be done in the matter of street work at the expense of the city until a new budget has been set aside. He said that all street work being done at present is assessed to the property holders along the street improved.

Several methods of raising a fund for street work have been discussed. One of the methods is the assessing of an occupational tax, another method is the adoption by Glendale of the Volstead Act as a ordinance whereby the city can try cases for violation of the liquor law and keep the fines to be used in the various departments of the city. This ordinance has been adopted and will become effective within 30 days.

THORNYCROFT ART HANDICRAFT AT GLENDALE PRESS

First Showing of Veterans Work in Market Opened in This Office

Hand loom work, hand-made basketry, work of a veteran of the world war, are now for sale at the office of the Glendale Daily Press.

The boys there are making things in the high hope of sale, in many instances for the benefit of their families, who are in a measure dependent upon them.

They have had difficulty in finding a market for the display of the goods. It is not possible for them to make these arrangements themselves.

To meet the situation and to offer the public a chance to inspect and buy some of the art craft, which is priced reasonably, considering that it is hand work, completed with painstaking effort, the Glendale Daily Press today shows the work on its counter.

Those interested are solicited to come and see. If they see, the Press is sure they will buy, for the work is good. And the buying is good work too.

POLICE RULES TO BE ORGANIZED

Chief Fraser to Form Police Duty Along San Diego Lines

To increase the efficiency of the Glendale police department, Chief of Police Fraser, through the cooperation of City Manager W. H. Reeves, has secured a book of rules used by the police department of San Diego and is planning to adopt a similar set of rules for the local department.

It is said that the book of rules used by the San Diego department is one of the most efficient in the state and that the rule book of the local department would be modeled along the same lines. This book will be compiled as soon as possible and when printed a copy will be given to each member of the department.

VISITATION WORK WINS WAY HERE

Church Men of All Denominations Attend Meeting

COOPERATION HERE

Six Hundred Called to Carry Message to Glendale Homes

A meeting of the church visitation committee was held Friday afternoon at four o'clock in the auditorium of the chamber of commerce. Representatives from nearly every denomination in Glendale were present and each one showed the spirit of good fellowship necessary to carry on this home visitation work.

The meeting opened by silent prayer, and Chairman C. W. Ingledue introduced the speaker of the afternoon, J. Shreve Durham, who is general superintendent of home visitation work.

The city has been divided into eight districts with headquarters in each district and a chairman for each district. The plan is to visit each home and give each member of that home an invitation to attend his own church. The motto of this committee has been "We cannot save the people unless we teach them; but we cannot teach them unless we reach them."

Glendale has a task to keep its religious moral standing up with the growth of the city because a big city does not count unless it grows better as it grows bigger, according to Mr. Durham.

Mr. Durham congratulated the chamber of commerce, the Rotary club and the board of education, as well as the newspapers of Glendale for their splendid cooperation in this work. In the past 14 years there has been 61,400,000 people in the United States visited, he said, during the visitation work.

On Thursday night there will be a very important meeting at the high school auditorium for the purposce of explaining more clearly the work that is to be done on Friday and every person who is willing to help should be there to receive instructions. The workers will go out in pairs, which will make it easier for both.

The districts have been numbered and outlined as follows, with their respective headquarters: No. 1. South of Park and Palmer avenue, to the east and west extremities, headquarters, Tropico Presbyterian church; No. 2, north of Park and Palmer avenue, east of Central, south of Lomita with headquarters at the Holy Family Catholic church; No. 3, north of Park avenue, west of Central, south of Broadway with headquarters at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church; No. 4, north of Lomita, east of Central, South of Wilson and west of Everett, headquarters, Central Christian church; No. 5, north of Lomita, east of Everett and Glendale with headquarters at Presbyterian church; No. 3, north of Broadway, west of Central, south of Verdugo Wash, with headquarters at the Congregational church; No. 7, north of Wilson, east of Central, west of Glendale, south of Montrose road and Verdugo Wash, headquarters at the Baptist church; No. 8, north of Verdugo Wash, west of Glendale avenu, headquarters at the First Methodist church.

Six hundred people are needed to carry on this great work, and many more can be used, according to Mr. Durham. Besides the pastors of all faiths and denominations, there were professional and business men and women present at the meeting yesterday afternoon. The layman committee is headed by C. W. Ingledue, Harry Girard and Julius Kranz. The entire religious, educational, social, commercial, industrial and civic life of Glendale is represented in the work.

Many local leaders present stated that this movement has already created the greatest interest of any work they have ever known in this city. The spirit of confidence and cooperation which it has brought among all interests is wonderful, according to the speaker and it is believed that this spirit will be of great value to all lines of life in Glendale for all time. Many hundreds of new people have been added to churches and Sunday schools in other cities where this work has been observed, and it is believed that large numbers will be added to the organizations in this rapidly growing city.

BICYCLE THIEF CONFESSES

Word was received by the Glendale police this morning from the Hollywood department that a man giving the name of Claud Roberts had been arrested and sent to the county jail. It was said that he confessed to having stolen several bicycles in Glendale.

The Glendale police were told that if a man would call at the county jail for Roberts he would take him to the place he had hidden the bicycles.

"Woof! I'm a Bear!" "I'll Say So!" Says Miss Sadie Houdyshel

Woof! Woof! Gr-r-r-r-r! It's a bear!

Miss Sadie Houdyshel of 308 North Orange street, a teacher in the Elysian Heights public school, and her pupils, met with a rather thrilling experience Thursday when they were encountered by a lovely Cinnamon bear over at Griffith Park. Miss Houdyshel and Miss Zenita St. Clair also of Glendale, had the sixth and seventh grades over at the park on a nature study tour. It was while eating their luncn that Mr. Bear wandered over their way, some how or other having gotten out of his iron cage. But Mr. Bear was a gentleman in all respects. He merely came up and ate cookies and was very sociable. Of course, a few of the children were frightened but within 5 minutes time Mr. Bear was back in his cage home, and after the excitement was all over, the children and their teachers remarked that they actually enjoyed his visit.

700 CHILDREN IN T. D. & L. TAKE MUSIC TEST

Armed With Pencils and Pads They Listen to Peal of Great Organ

The audience, almost entirely children, gathered at the T. D. and L. theatre this morning for the music memory contest was a sight to delight any music lover who desires the rising generation to become familiar with the best in music. Somewhere between 600 and 700 boys and girls of grammar and high schools were there with pencils and pads.

As the organ peeled forth the opening bars of each number played by Wesley Kuhnle, in a most splendid manner, the children listened attentively as the melody developed a stir passed through the auditorium like the fluttering of leaves in a forest as the small listeners bent to record their guess as to the composition and the composer.

The full list of compositions follows:

1. Hallelujah Chorus from the "Messiah" (Handel).
2. Surprise Symphony (Andante) (Hayden).
3. Overture to "Midsummer Night's Dream" (Mendelssohn).
4. Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" (Wagner).
5. Morning (Pier Gynt Suite) (Grieg).
6. Gavotte from Mignon (Thomas).
7. New World Symphony "Andante" (Dvorak).
8. Pomp and Circumstance—March (Elgar).
9. To a Waterlily (MacDowell).
10. Minuet (Paderewski).
11. From the Land of the Sky-Blue Water (Cadman).
12. Overture to William Tell (Rossini).

On the platform, where Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, president of the Glendale Music club which arranged the contest, presided, were 14 other ladies—Mrs. Dora Gibson, who has had charge of the contest and members of her committee, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, chairman of judges and members of her committee.

The meeting opened with a few words of greeting from Superintendent Richardson D. White, who expressed his great satisfaction in

OWN-A-HOME and Build-Now-Week

There are two kinds of "home nests"—

One is the kind that is "all yours." This is the home in which you take a real interest, in connection with which you delight to plan new features, to lay out and put into effect little garden plans, and many other charming attractions that tend to make it a real home. This is the little cottage of which you think during the day while at your work. In your mind you picture the little wife flitting to and fro about the house, working in the garden or caring for the hundred and one little things that demand attention. You plan some little improvement you will make when your day's work at the office is finished and the hours pass too slowly until you get the hoe or the rake in your hands. It is the little home that you cherish, of which you dream, and for which you are constantly planning. In other words, it is a place that is a home in the truest sense of the word and which belongs to you and the little wife.

The other "home nest" is one that is owned by the landlord, and it is a place in which only the landlord is interested. You are interested in that dwelling only because it comprises a roof that will shield you and your loved ones from the rain, and a series of walls to retain the heat that comes from the little gas stove. It is a place where you eat and sleep—and that is all. Your deeper interests are not there. The heartstrings are not "pulled" when you leave in the morning, and there is no genuine feeling of repose, restfulness and independence—these are lacking in the rented home. The renter is always at the command of the landlord. At his command you move, with his agreement you stay. You live an artificial life.

Why not get out of the "rut"—the rent paying ridge in which you have been running for the past years and months. It costs no more, so why continue to pay the surplus to the landlord?

Let's go—this is "Own Your Own Home" week.

IN THE SHADOWING OF DYING DAY MRS. RIDER IS INTERRED

As a gray day approached its close the sun pierced the clouds and shone in sofe splendor on the green turf and blossoming shrubs in Forest Lawn Memorial park, where the body of Sadie Lanterman Rider, wasted by years of suffering, was consigned to its last resting place Friday afternoon.

There was an appropriate scripture reading by Dr. W. E. Edmonds; a quartet of young men from Occidental college, friends of Paul Rider, sang Gounod's "Unfold, Ye Portals"; a lark soaring from the turf, showered liquid notes of pure joy on the group of mourning friends.

As the song died away the last rites were performed at the mound, piled high with flowers, for Mrs. Rider was greatly beloved and there were many floral tributes.

The preliminary services had been held in the Little Church of the Flowers, which could not hold all who came to pay their tributes of love and respect for the dead. They opened with a vocal solo by Paul Fuller, one of the Occidental students, who sang the selection chosen by Mrs. Rider, "Jerusalem the Golden." Comforting passages of scripture were read by Rev. Louis Tinning. Dr. Julius Soper told of the friendly work on behalf of local Japanese which Mrs. Rider had been instrumental in starting. Dr. Edmonds, who made the chief address, said in part:

"Just before Mrs. Rider went to her coronation she arranged with some detail the plan of these services. Among other things she tried to exact a promise from me that when I took charge I would not say anything about her but would exalt the Lord Jesus Christ. I evaded the promise by saying, 'You know I always exalt the Lord Jesus Christ.'"

An eloquent prayer was offered by Dr. A. B. Pritchard of Los Angeles. In obedience to the wish of Mrs. Rider, all present united in the singing of "All Hall the Power of Jesus' Name," and this ended the chapel services.

Rev. Rider was comforted by the presence of his son Paul, who left Princeton university to come to this coast to complete his theological studies that he might be near his mother during her last months on earth. Miss Ruth Rider, who is teaching in Minnesota, was unable to come home for the service.

CITY PRINTING

ORDINANCE NO. 551

AN ORDINANCE PROHIBITING THE SALE, MANUFACTURE, TRANSPORTATION OR UNLAWFUL POSSESSION OF INTOXICATING LIQUORS, AND PROVIDING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION HEREOF, AND REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 65 AND ALL OTHER ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT THEREWITH.

SECTION 1. When used in this Ordinance the word "liquor" or the phrase "intoxicating liquor" shall be construed to include alcohol, brandy, whiskey, rum, gin, beer, ale, porter, and wine, and in addition thereto any spirituous, vinous, malt or fermented liquor, liquids, and compounds, whether medicated, proprietary, patented, or not, and by whatever name called, containing one-half of 1 per centum or more of alcohol by volume which are fit for use for beverage purposes; Provided, That the foregoing definition shall not extend to dealcoholized wine not to any beverage or liquor produced by the process by which beer, ale, porter or wine is produced, if it contains less than one-half of 1 per centum of alcohol by volume, and is made as prescribed in laws enacted by Congress, and is otherwise denominated than as beer, ale, or porter, and is contained and sold in, or from, such sealed and labeled bottles, casks, or containers as the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue may by regulation prescribe.

The word "person" shall mean and include natural persons, associations, co-partnerships and corporations.

SECTION 2. No person shall manufacture, sell, barter, transport, import, export, deliver, furnish or possess any intoxicating liquor except as authorized in this ordinance and all the provisions of this Ordinance shall be liberally construed to the end that the use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage may be prevented.

Provided, nothing in this Ordinance shall prohibit the purchase and sale of warehouse receipts covering distilled spirits on deposit in Government bonded warehouses, and no special tax liability shall attach to the business of purchasing and selling such warehouse receipts.

SECTION 3. The articles enumerated in this section shall not, after having been manufactured and prepared for the market, be subject to the provisions of this Ordinance, if they correspond with the following descriptions and limitations, namely:

(a) Denatured alcohol or denatured rum produced and used as provided by laws and regulations now or hereafter in force.

No such manufacturer shall sell, use or dispose of any liquor otherwise than as an ingredient of the articles authorized to be manufactured therefrom. No more alcohol shall be used in the manufacture of any extract, syrup, or the articles named in paragraphs (b), (c), and (d) of this section which may be used for beverage purposes than the quantity necessary for extraction or solution of the elements contained therein and for the preservation of the article.

Any persons who shall knowingly sell any of the articles mentioned in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of this section for beverage purposes, or any extract or syrup for intoxicating beverage purposes, or who shall sell any of the same under circumstances from which the seller might reasonably deduce the intention of the purchaser to use them for such purposes, or shall sell any beverage containing one-half of 1 per centum or more of alcohol by volume in which any extract, syrup, or other article is used as an ingredient, shall be subject to the penalties as herein provided.

SECTION 4. CITY PRINTING

Nothing in this Ordinance shall be held to apply to the manufacture, sale, transportation, possession, importation, or distribution of wine for sacramental purposes, or like religious rites, by persons holding a valid permit therefor from the United States Internal Revenue Department. No person to whom such permit may be issued to manufacture, transport, import or sell wines for sacramental purposes or like religious rites shall sell, barter, exchange or furnish any such to any person not a rabbi, minister of the gospel, priest, or an officer duly authorized for the purpose by any church or congregation, nor to any such except upon an application duly subscribed by him, which application, authenticated as regulations may prescribe, shall be filed and preserved by the seller.

SECTION 5. No one but a physician holding a permit from the United States Internal Revenue Department to prescribe liquor shall issue any prescription for liquor. And no physician shall prescribe liquor unless after careful physical examination of the person for whose use such prescription is sought, or if such examination is found impracticable, then upon the best information obtainable, he in good faith believes that the use of such liquor as a medicine by such person is necessary and will afford relief to him from some known ailment. Not more than a pint of spiritous liquor to be taken internally shall be prescribed for use by the same person within any period of ten days and no prescription shall be filled more than once. Any pharmacist filling a prescription shall at the time indorse upon it over his own signature the word "canceled," together with the date when the liquor was delivered, and then make the same a part of the record that he is required to keep as herein provided.

Every physician who issues a prescription for liquor shall keep a record, alphabetically arranged in a book prescribed by the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which shall show the date of issue, amount prescribed, to whom issued, the purpose or ailment for which it is to be used and directions for use, stating the amount and frequency of the dose.

SECTION 6. No person shall manufacture, purchase for sale, sell, or transport any liquor without making at the time a permanent record thereof showing in detail the amount and kind of liquor manufactured, purchased, sold, or transported, together with the names and addresses of the persons to whom sold, in case of sale, and the consignor and consignee in case of transportation, and the time and place of such manufacture, sale, or transportation.

SECTION 7. All manufacturers and wholesale or retail druggists, holding United States Internal Revenue permits shall keep as a part of the records required of them a copy of all United States permits to purchase on which a sale of any liquor is made, and no manufacturer or wholesale druggist shall sell or otherwise dispose of any liquor except at wholesale and only to persons having United States permits to purchase in such quantities.

SECTION 8. All persons manufacturing liquor for sale under a United States Internal Revenue permit shall securely and permanently attach to every container thereof, as the same is manufactured, a label stating the name of manufacturer, kind and quantity of liquor contained therein, and the date of its manufacture, together with the number of the permit authorizing the manufacture thereof, and all persons possessing such liquor in wholesale quantities shall securely keep and maintain such label thereon; and all persons selling at wholesale shall attach to every package of liquor, when sold, a label setting forth the kind and quantity of liquor contined therein, by whom manufactured, the date of sale, and the person to whom sold; which label shall likewise be kept and maintained thereon until the liquor is used for the purpose for which such sale was authorized.

SECTION 9. It shall be the duty of every carrier to make a record at the place of shipment on the receipt of any liquor transported, and he shall deliver liquor only to persons who present to the carrier a verified copy of a United States Internal Revenue permit to purchase, which shall be made a part of the carrier's permanent record at the office from which delivery is made.

The agent of the common carrier is hereby authorized to administer the oath to the consignee in verification of the copy of the permit presented, who, if not personally known by the agent, shall be identified before the delivery of the liquor to him. The name and address of the person identifying the consignee shall be included in the record.

SECTION 10. It shall be unlawful for a person to use or induce any carrier or any agent or employee thereof, to carry or ship any package or receptacle containing liquor without notifying the carrier of the true nature and character of the shipment. No carrier shall transport or shall any person receive liquor from a carrier unless there appears on the outside of the package containing such liquor the following information:

Name and address of the consignor or seller, name and address of the consignee, kind and quantity of liquor contained therein, and number of the permit to purchase or ship the same, together with the name and address of the person using the permit.

SECTION 11. It shall be unlawful for any consignee to accept or receive any package containing any liquor upon which appears a statement known to him to be false or for any carrier or other person to consign, ship, transport, or deliver any such package, knowing such statement to be false.

SECTION 12. It shall be unlawful to give to any carrier or any officer, agent, or person acting or assuming to act for such carrier an order requiring the delivery to any person of any liquor or package containing liquor consigned to, or purporting or claimed to be consigned to a person, when the purpose of the order is to enable any person not an actual bona fide consignee to obtain such liquor.

SECTION 13. It shall be unlawful to advertise anywhere, or by any means or method, liquor, or the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale or furnishing or the same, or where, how, from whom, or at what price the same may be obtained. No one shall permit any sign or billboard containing such advertisement to remain upon one's premises. But nothing herein shall prohibit manufacturers and wholesale druggists holding valid United States permits to sell, liquor, from furnishing price lists, with description of liquor for sale, to persons permitted to purchase liquor, or from advertising alcohol in business publications or trade journals circulating generally among manufacturers of lawful alcoholic perfumes, toilet preparations, flavoring extracts, medicinal preparations, and like articles; Provided, however, that nothing in this Ordinance shall be construed to be in conflict with the Act making appropriations for the Post Office Department, approved March 3, 1917 (Thirty-ninth Statutes at Large, Part 1, Page 1058 et seq.), and this Ordinance shall not apply to newspapers published in foreign countries when mailed to this country.

SECTION 14. It shall be unlawful to advertise, manufacture, sell or possess for sale any utensil, contrivance, machine, preparation, compound, tablet, substance, formula, direction, or receipt advertised, designed, or intended for use in the unlawful manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

SECTION 15. No person shall solicit or receive, nor knowingly permit his employee to solicit or receive, from any person any order for liquor, or give any information of how liquor may be obtained in violation of this Ordinance.

SECTION 16. It shall be unlawful to have, possess, transport or manufacture any liquor or property designed for the manufacture or liquor intended for use in violating this Ordinance or which has been so used, and no property rights shall exist in any such liquor or property. A search warrant may be issued as provided in Title XI of public law numbered 24 of the Sixty-fifth Congress, approved June 15, 1917, and such liquor, the containers thereof, and such property so seized shall be subject to such disposition as the court may make thereof. If it is found that such liquor or property was so unlawfully held, possessed, transported or manufactured, or had been so unlawfully used, the liquor, and all property designed for the unlawful manufacture of liquor, shall be destroyed, unless the court shall otherwise order. No search warrant shall issue to search any private dwelling occupied as such unless it is being used for the unlawful sale, or manufacture of intoxicating liquor, or unless it is in part used for some business purpose such as a store, shop, saloon, restaurant, hotel, or boarding house. The term "private dwelling" shall be construed to include the room or rooms used and occupied not transiently but solely as a residence in an apartment house, hotel, or boarding house. The property seized on any such warrant shall not be taken from the officer seizing the same on any writ of replevin or other like process. Any Justice of the Peace, City Recorder, Police Judge, Superior Judge, or any judicial officer having jurisdiction any place within this county shall have the same power to issue search warrants and warrants for arrest now exercised by a United States Commissioner, United States Judge, or other United States judicial officer.

SECTION 17. All officers whose duty it is to enforce criminal laws, shall have all the power and protection in the enforcement of this Ordinance or any provisions thereof which is conferred by existing laws for the enforcement of laws relating to the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors under the laws of the United States.

SECTION 18. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this Ordinance is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the City Jail or in the County Jail of Los Angeles County, not more than six months, or by a fine of not more than Five Hundred Dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Penalties provided in this Ordinance against the manufacture of liquor without a permit shall not apply to a person for manufacturing non-intoxicating cider and fruit juices exclusively for use in his home, but such cider and fruit juices shall not be sold or delivered except to persons having permits to manufacture vinegar.

SECTION 19. No person shall be excused on the ground that it may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture from attending and testifying, or producing books, papers, documents, and other evidence in obedience to a subpoena of any court in any suit or proceeding based upon or growing out of any alleged violation of this Ordinace, but no natural person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on accout of any transaction, matter, or thing as to which, in obedience to a subpoena and under oath, he may so testify or produce evidence, but no person shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

SECTION 20. 700 CHILDREN IN T. D. & L. TEST

this competition which had given the children five weeks of good music under circumstances which would stamp it indellibly upon their memories.

Miss Elsa Brennaman, director of music for the city schools, mentioned the rules of the contest, first silence and second honor in setting down your own guess without assistance from others.

Mrs. Jones voiced her own joy in the event and introduced Wesley Kuhnle, the Glendale organist who had so generously contributed his services, and thanked the newspapers of the city who had given publicity to the contest, the music stores who have provided free concerts and who have so generously donated 80 records to the schools, and all who have helped in any way.

On the platform besides Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Gibson who presided during the program were Mrs. C. L. Peckham, Mrs. H. E Bartlett, Mrs. E. W. Kinney, Mrs. Lilian Dow, Mrs. Robert Philp, Mrs. N. A. Hagood, Mrs. Charles A. Parker, Miss Elsa Brennaman, Mrs. Harry Gibbs, Mrs. George Roach, Mrs. Eugene Murman, and Miss Maennell.

Mrs. Jones stated that the lists turned in would be judged Monday and the winners announced as soon hereafter as possible. The prizes she stated, will be awarded at the next concert of the Glendale Music club April 7, and the number and amounts will be determined after the chairman, D. Ripley Jackson, has reported and the number of correct lists is known.

Before the contest numbers were sung the audience united in singing America and at the close of the program in the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

It was a wonderful occasion and will hereafter be an annual event.

SULPHUR IS BEST TO CLEAR UP UGLY, BROKEN OUT SKIN

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema right up, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the torment or disfigurement. A little jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream.—Adv.

CADMAN TRIO WINS ITS AUDIENCE

The Cadman Trio concert at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium proved all that had been promised and was enjoyed by an audience which practically filled the room.

Not often do we have opportunity to renew acquaintance with "Hiawatha" and when it is under such circumstances as these in a beautiful Indian setting in which almost priceless curios are used, it is a treat indeed.

Mrs. Garrett's wonderful recitation of the poem, the musical piano accompaniment based on real tribal melodies which Miss Alma Geiger contributed with rare artistry and the wonderful singing of the Cadman Indian songs by Constance Balfour will not soon be forgotten nor their picturesque appearance in Indian garb.

Purely Personal

The institution of the Order of White Shrine of Jerusalem, will be held next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Masonic Temple. All applicants who desire to be charter members are requested to be present at this time.

C. E. Thompson of 121½ South Louise street is in Riverside on a combined business and pleasure trip. He expects to return Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Miller of 434 Burchett street are expecting Mr. Miller's sister, Miss Nell Miller of Los Angeles to spend the week-end with them.

Mrs. C. E. Thompson of 121½ South Louise street will be the over-Sunday guest of Mrs. F. A. Brown and son, Charles Deaves of Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Lyons of 122 West Palmer avenue are the proud parents of a son, born this morning. They have named the little fellow James Grey Lyons, Jr. Mrs. Lyons was formerly Miss Daphne Burlingham.

Mrs. M. S. Hyer of Long Beach spent Friday with Mrs. C. A. Perry of 111 North Louise street. Other guests for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Hornathus, and Mr. Hornathus' father from Boyle Heights.

Mrs. W. D. Phillips and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie attended a luncheon Wednesday given by Mrs. Robert Kerr of Pasadena.

GLENDALE MANOR SALE OPENS

Glendale Manor, unit No. 2, is offered for sale today to the public by Dickinson & Gillespie, the big realty dealers, who so successfully handled Glendale Manor unit No. 1, which was closed out a few days after it was placed upon the market.

The selling of Glendale Manor in so short a time is considered a marvel stroke of realty development by experts who have handled subdivision property in this section. It demonstrated two things, namely, that Dickinson & Gillespie, have one of the best propositions ever offered the public, and also that they are wide awake to the great advantages offered investors who desire a home in this, the most rapidly growing section in America. Prices on lots in the second unit are very low, and it is considered even a better buy than the first tract, which went like hot cakes on a cold morning. A part of unit No. 2 is covered with walnuts, and every lot will make an ideal home site. There is no better buy for the money anywhere than Glendale Manor.

Already more than 35 new houses are under way or in progress of building in Glendale Manor No. 2, and many of the people who bought lots in the first tract as an investment have sold the same at a profit of from 15 to 45 per cent. It is predicted that these lots will bring even a better price if re-sold.

Don't buy that lot until you see Glendale Manor, unit No. 2. For full particulars see big display advertisement elsewhere in this paper.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary, and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.—Adv.

REALTY BOARD IS BUYERS FRAUD PROTECTION

Shady Transactions Are Sternly Rebuked by Local Organizations

There are many things that come up during the course of a month that demonstrate the value of a thoroughly organized realty board to any community. It is generally thought that an organization of this character is formed simply for the benefit of the real estate men who are members of it, and that they have banded themselves together for the purpose of devising ways and means of some way and in some manner increase their earnings from realty sales.

On the contrary the Glendale Realty board, for instance, has been formed as much for the protection of the buyer and the seller as it has for the assistance of the realty man. It has been organized to put the real estate business on a firmer footing and to bring it up to the highest possible level. The men who are members of this organization must conduct their business in a straight forward manner if they expect to remain a part of the organization. If a member stoops to "shady" actions, his actions are immediately reported to the proper committee, which at once takes up the charges placed against him and investigates the matter thoroughly. If he is found guilty he is asked for his resignation; if not, he is permitted to remain in his membership capacity.

An example of how unscrupulous real estate buyers endeavor to get the best of the real estate agent came a few days ago to the attention of the Yale Realty company, 249 North Brand boulevard. Incidentally, it may be said that this procedure will be "knocked in the head" when the multiple listing system has been put into good working order.

A man came to Glendale a few days ago from Los Angeles. He stopped at the Yale office and asked to be shown a certain kind of property. He was shown a pretty little place, but stated that he did not like it. He went back to Los Angeles and the next day another man, sent out by the first would-be buyer, called at the house shown by the Yale company. The idea was to save the commission in buying the home.

Now, here's where the joke comes in. The owner of the house saw at a glance that something was wrong and when the second man asked the price of the home he named a figure $400 higher than the price at which it had been listed with the real estate company. Buyer No. 2 argued that as there would be no commission to pay on the deal he thought the seller should cut off the commission. The seller said this was satisfactory to him, so he offered to knock off the sum of $200. The buyer fell for this, taking the house at a figure $200 above the price quoted to the real estate company by the owner.

Fortunately, this transaction turned out as it should, but instances of this kind are taking place which result in the real estate man getting the raw end. Every time a deal of this kind is turned to the benefit of the crooked buyer it encourages this kind of dealing. It is transactions of this kind that will be eliminated when the Glendale Realty board puts its multiple listing system into effect.

By the foregoing it is not inferred that realty agents outside the realty board are not honest. It does mean, however, that so far as possible the realty salesman who is not strictly honest will not be permitted to become or remain a member of the board.

Wernette & Stoner Build

The firm of Wernette & Stoner real estate and building, of 116 West Wilson, is erecting a home at 371 Milford street for Mrs. Lillian Clark. This will be of a type that is strictly new in Glendale. The exterior will be of asbestic stucco, this being a coating which is placed upon lath. The coating is waterproof, will not crack and is absolutely fireproof. The material is put on soft and imbedded in it will be crushed white marble. The home will contain six rooms and will cost about $7000.

GRAND VIEW SCHOOL OF GLENDALE

DESIGN OF NEW $33,000 EDUCATIONAL UNIT FOR FOOTHILL DISTRICT

The new Grand View school house, designed by Architect Geo. Lindsey, is to be an attractive building. Of plaster exterior and slate shingled roof, it is more Italian than Spanish in type. Dimensions are 236 and a fraction by 41½ feet with a central entrance taller than the north and south wings.

The school faces Fifth street, the campus being bounded on the east and west by Ruberta and Justin avenue.

Administration rooms will occupy the central portion, an office, teachers' room, supply closet, etc. In each wing are two class rooms, 25 by 30 feet in dimensions, the wings terminating in toilet rooms.

As the school grows and more rooms are needed, two additional wings will run south from the extremity of the present wings, and an auditorium will be built south of the central entrance, leaving quadrangles between wings and auditorium.

The south portion of the campus will be laid out in play grounds. As the picture shows, the palladium motif has been carried out in the entrance and repeated as a decoration on the blank walls of the termini of the wings.

The foundation is now being laid and it is expected the building will be completed some time during the summer. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $33,000.

PRETTY NUPTIAL SERVICE AT EAGLE ROCK CHURCH

There was a pretty little wedding in the Congregational church last Tuesday evening. Miss Bertha Dudley Casteel, daughter of Mrs. W. L. Casteel and a niece of Dr. A. J. Long, proprietor of the Eagle Rock drug store, was united to Clarence Thompson of Fort Dodge, Iowa, by Rev. E. Morgan Isaac, pastor of the church. Miss Casteel lately returned from Honolulu, where she had spent the winter with her grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Long, who is now at the Aragon Apartments in Los Angeles, where a reception was given the bride and groom. The couple have gone to their future home at Fort Dodge.

Eagle Rock Churches

Rev. John Hedley, pastor of the Methodist church, in continuation of his series of sermons on the privilege and duty of individual prayer, will take "How Do You Pray the Lord's Prayer?" for his theme, Sunday morning. In the evening he will speak on "The Woman Who Had Seven Devils." His talk to the children will be on "Building Castles." At the 6:15 Epworth League meeting there will be a short prayer service. The subject for study will be "The Tragedy of Buried Talents." Sunday school at 9:45.

"The Personal Element in Religion" will be discussed in the morning by Rev. E. Morgan Isaac, pastor of the Congregational church, from the point of view that, to be really significant, something more than theology, one's religion must meet personal needs and longings. The evening lecture, at 7:30, will be delivered by Ameen U. Fareed, M. D., LL. D., on "The Psychology of the Unconscious." He is a noted psychoanalyst as well as doctor of medicine and his lectures in Los Angeles are always largely attended. At the young people's meeting, at 6:30, the pastor will speak on "What is Conscience and What is Its Function?" Sunday school at 9:45.

Rev. B. B. Weatherall, pastor of the Presbyterian church, will preach Sunday morning on "Love's Overture." The pulpit will be occupied in the evening by Rev. Murdock McKenzie, D. D., a Canadian Presbyterian missionary of great repute who was sent to China more than 32 years ago. He has been made moderator of the general assembly in Canada. His subject here will be "China Past and Present." The intermediate Christian Endeavor Society meets at 5:15 and the seniors at 6:15. Sunday school at 9:30.

Rev. Robert Renison's evening sermon in the Episcopal church will be on the subject "Weighed and Found Wanting." Regular service at 11 a. m., Sunday school at 9:45. Holy communion during Lent on the first Sunday of the month at 7 a. m. and third Sunday at 11, also second Thursday at 10 a. m.

Make Glendale Motor Capital

right kind in not routing the north and south travel directly through the city. Also the possibilities of INCREASED TRADE by diverting, say, 5000 motor cars in a day from a back road to the main business streets, ought not to be overlooked.

TURN THE TIDE of daily automobile travel through Glendale from the San Fernando road to Brand boulevard and the TRADE POTENTIALITIES will be ENORMOUS. Not only automobile supply houses, but restaurants, ice cream and soft drink emporiums and the attractive shops of this city would be calculated to directly benefit. A large, high-class hotel catering to tourists would almost surely follow and the influence of the deflected traffic would have an important bearing upon the UPBUILDING of the BUSINESS CENTER.

Three routes for carrying the traffic from San Fernando road to Brand boulevard have been suggested by members of the local automobile trade. These are:

Via Doran, Wilson and West Broadway.

Two jogs in Doran street eliminate that thoroughfare.

One jog in West Broadway militates against that avenue.

In planning a through route for a steady procession of cars moving quickly for hours at a time, every sharp double turn is an impediment.

Careful examination of every possible line in the proposed routing of San Fernando tourists via Brand boulevard then shows the logical connecting link to be either Broadway, with its one jog or Wilson avenue, which is minus a jog.

Both roads go straight through from the San Fernando road not only to Brand boulevard but to Colorado avenue entrance to Eagle Rock.

They therefore are the most direct routes for tourists from the north to Eagle Rock and Pasadena and the best routes to Brand boulevard.

As if prepared for such a destiny, Broadway and Wilson are to be paved for their entire length. Already they afford the widest and easiest northwest entrance to the city.

The erection of an arch over the San Fernando road with a sign "Direct Paved Route Through Beautiful Glendale to Los Angeles" would be sufficient to change the tide of travel from the back door to the front door of Glendale.

Broadway is in bad condition west of Central avenue. It ought to be repaved. With Wilson street paved, they together or separately, could take care of all through traffic, provided Brand boulevard was also paved between Park and Colorado avenues. In fact it would form an ideal route in and out of the San Fernando valley.

The San Fernando road itself is in generally good condition except for a stretch between Burbank and San Fernando, which has been cut up by heavy trucking. This, it is said, has diverted some tourist travel via Lankershim and Hollywood that otherwise would have come through Glendale.

Establish the ideal touring route through the HEART of GLENDALE and it will not be long before this city becomes famed as the CAPITAL of the MOTORISTS' PARADISE.

Covers were laid for about 200 at the banquet served to members of Glen Eyrie chapter O. E. S. Friday night at Masonic Temple, where Mrs. Clara Alvarez, district deputy grand matron was guest of honor.

The tables were tastefully decorated with mustard bloom, and following the dinner the work was exemplified in the chapter room upstairs for the benefit of the guest of the evening.

T. D. & L. OFFERS EXTRA GOOD BILL

The T. D. and L. theatre again offers a big double program of vaudeville and pictures of real merit for this week-end billing—tonight being the last times shown of the production "Why Girls Leave Home" and the five acts of vaudeville.Anna Q. Nillson, the featured player in the film, is more wonderful and beautiful than ever. The production is lavishly staged, very realistic and capably produced. On the vaudeville program the "Dixie Trio" are a real head-line act. They take the house by storm and the applause seems to never let up. Clemen's Hawaiian Quartet, native players, are exceptionally good while Mirriam Mahr pleased the crowds of last night with her coon songs and dialect. Otesco, the wizard of the violin, is indeed all this word implies—he is a 'wizard" and gets right into the audience for a big share of the applause.

Bill Hart Sunday

Bill Hart will hold down the boards at the T. D. and L. theatre Sunday in his latest production, "Travelin' On." Ralph Allan says this is Hart's greatest picture—a story filled with action, thrills, adventure, romance with the spirit of the old west tingling all the way through. This is Bill Hart as he is best known.

Bicycle Shop Display.—The Glendale Bicycle Shop at 120 North Brand boulevard has a fine window display. They are using crepe paper streamers and several of their newest bicycles, but best of all is an artistic electric sign, which gives a pretty effect when lighted.

Desirable furnished rooms may be advertised WITH QUICK RESULTS—for they are in demand.

THE RAVEN MAKES T ROUBLE FOR THE DOGS

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"Oh, oh, oh, that scroundrelly bird!" Dr. Muskrat laughed, laughed until he choked. "So he was Daddy Crow's great-grand-uncle, that raven on the Ark? Well, then, old Daddy Crow is his great-granduncle right over again. Catch him doing wrong and some other fellow gets the blame every time."

"Ye-es," the red dog agreed doubtfully. "It works that way pretty often. But not always. 'Specially not with men. Take the very time I was telling about. Mister Noah scolded. 'What do you mean by gnawing up every rope your thieving teeth could find on this Ark of mine? Answer me, mice! Were they anything to build nests with?'

"The mice trembled. So did the raven. He thought his turn was coming next. But Mister Noah raged on, 'What do you mean by messing up my anchor chain with those nests?'

"Still no squak from the mice. And the raven trembled till his claws rattled. Surely the next words would be, 'And you, what business of your was it to tear them up? Answer me, bird.'

"But it wasn't. Mister Noah shouted, 'And what, let me ask, do you mean by nesting at all. This is a sea-going menageries, but it's not a day nursery. Only the crew are allowed to carry children. Those are my orders and I'm the captain. Mice, what have you to say?'

"Nothing. Absolutely nothing. But you could hear that raven's beak clapping. Now it was coming. Now Mister Noah was going to roar, 'Bird! And what are the mouse babies doing in your craw? Is that the place for them?'

"Not at all. What he did say was, 'Shep! Come here!' And the Ark dog came, crawling mighty

"You hunt up every mouse except the first two I shipped and bring them to me."

scared, with his belly to the deck. 'Shep, you're supposed to mind the beasts. Mice are beasts. Had you forgotten that? Why didn't you keep an eye on them? There's no telling how many we have on board; I'm sure the mice don't. You hunt up every mouse except the first two I shipped and bring them to me.'

"Now the raven hated dogs. And he wanted the mice for himself. So he croaked, 'Plaze, yer honor. Beggin' yer honor's parden, but the dogs is hardly the wans to be afther punishin' thim mice. They're day nurseries thimselves, the two av thim. And night nurseries as will, and free meals inty the bargain.'

"Shep hung his head. 'It's my fleas,' he whined. 'I've got—I've got—something more than just the two.'

"Mister Noah bit his lip to stop a smile. (Shep saw him). But he said severely, 'Then hunt your fleas, too. But you needn't bring me them.'"

NEXT STORY: SO MISTER NOAH INVESTIGATES THE RAVEN.

SOME RAREBIT

Seenob was very fastidious, but he was also a very hungry man, when at 1 o'clock one day he found himself in an unknown town in which only one rather cheap-looking restaurant was to be found.

The call of the inner man was not to be denied, so he pushed open the swinging doors and entered. It was a rough, ill-smelling place, bt he thought he could manage to get down a cup of coffee and something to eat.

The waitress brought the coffee in a thick, heavy cup.

"Where's the saucer?" inquired our fastidious friend.

"We don't give no saucers here," replied the girl. "If we did, some ill-bred ignoramus would come blowin' in an' drink out of the saucer, and we'd lose a lot of our most swagger trade!"

They had just returned from their honeymoon.

Claudie Coodle took another mouthfull of welsh rarebit just to make sure; but being the most polite man for miles around, he refrained from saying anything.

"Lovely weather, isn't it?" commented Mrs. Coodle, as she stuck her fork into the rarebit, preparatory to starting.

"It certainly is," he replied, and took another mouthful just to make doubly sure.

But even then he made no comments. It is really impossible to describe how polite he was.

"It looks as though we will have some nice weather next week, too," said Mrs. Coodle, as she turned over the rarebit on her fork, still preparatory to beginning.

"It looks that way to me also," he answered, and took another mouthful just to satisfy himself positively and absolutely.

And yet he said nothing. Beyond the shadow of a doubt he was the most polite man that ever lived, possibly the politest that ever will be born.

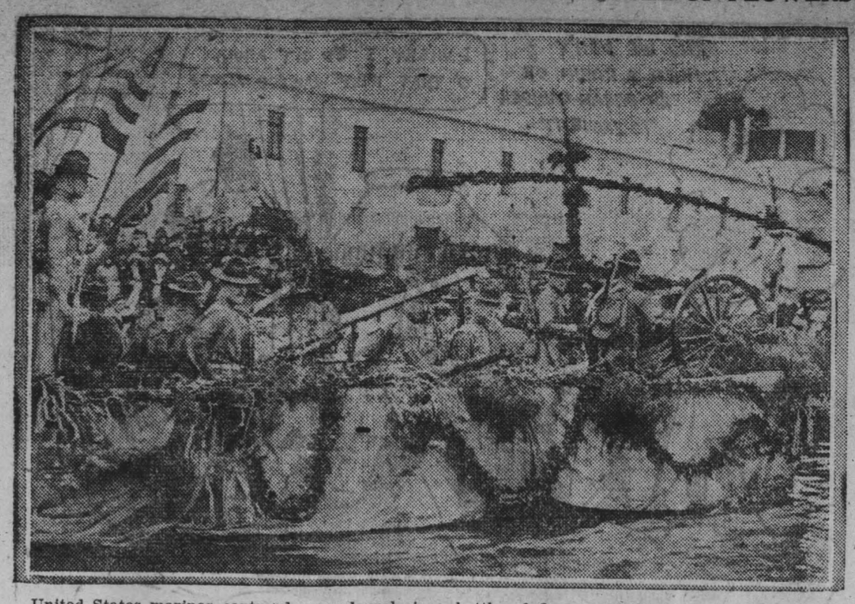
Then Mrs. Coodle lifted her fork and took a mouthful of rarebit.

"Dear me!" she said, in surprise. "I must have put that cake of yellow soap into the rarebit instead of the cheese!"

Experience teaches us how to make other kinds of mistakes.

If misery loves company it's up to everybody to get married.

U. S. MARINES WIN LAURELS IN FRENCH BATTLE OF FLOWERS



United States marines captured many laurels in a battle of flowers at the annual flower carnival at Villefranche, France. The carnival culminated in a battle royal between the crews of various flower-laden craft. This boatload of leathernecks from the U. S. S. Utah was armed with machine guns and anti-aircraft rifles as well as flowers.

APPLE PIE

About 4 tart apples, 1-2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon extract lemon, Pie paste. Peel, core and slice apples thin. Line pie plate with paste. Put in apples, sugar and a little water. Wet the edges, cover with paste rolled out very thin. Bake in moderate steady oven until apples are cooked. Any green fruit pies can be made in similar manner to above.

BORES

By JOHN BRECK

We are a versatile folk, we men. Whether we owe it to our intellects or to the hands which enable use to translate our intangible ideas into myriad forms, our very range of interest makes us impatient of "single-track" minds. A voice which harps too steadily on the same theme irritates us like the persistence of the morning fly who breaks our beauty sleep by his one-sided argument with the window pane. It bores us.

Now insects are bores by nature. Each spends its little span of shadow and sunshine in pursuit of a single project; each has one idea which—if I dared say "which shapes its end" the pun would be justified. Either head or tail is the specialized tool which fits it for its one work and unfits it for any other. Whimsically enough it is often, in a double sense, boring.

Head or tail, which is most boresome? Watch an ant tunnel the earth or a cranefly derrick itself on her slender legs and sink her shaft by tapping her slim body with the regularity of a piledriver and you have grounds for comparison. But bug-power is difficult to estimate, since neither insect shows signs of its exertion. Mosquito and wasp, carpenter bee, who leaves his augur shavings on your front veranda, and sawfly, who gimlets your blackberry canes, seem to work with equal facility.

To judge by superlatives, the enormous proboscis of the nut-weevil, who seems hardly big enough to furnish it with a stable working platform, is clumsy beside the fine stern-drill of the big "horn-tail" which drives so nonchalantly into the heartwood of our elms. It has five moving parts, all trued to the millionth part of an inch—fine tool-making, to be sure. But what of the big fly, Thalessa, who bores deeper still to deposit her young where they can prey upon the horntail's? She loops her two-piece shafting, as fine and flexible as a hair, over her back, to give it a spring as she applies her power by the most delicate of pressures to the fragile trocar which slips within.

Yes, the tails have it, judging by design, but by works a head-borer is the undoubted champion. He is a tiny brown beetle, not at all spectacular. But how he can bore! He has taken a fancy to the lead insulation of telephone wires, and whenever he arrives the trouble department hears from him. And their experiments only prove that sixteen thicknesses of the sheet metal do not discourage a bug in good health who got his practice rambling through the hard going of a Monterey pine.

Rich men don't really deserve as much sympathy as some poor men think.

Everybody else wishes that "mother's angel child" were one.

Truths in Epigram

If a man does not make new acquaintances as he advances through life, he will soon find himself left alone. A man, sir, should keep his friendships in constant repair. — Johnson (1709-1784).

There are three faithful friends—an old wife, an old dog, and ready money.—Franklin (1706-1790).

ANGELL SEES WAR

Norman Angell, lecturing in southern California, descries the portent of war in the possible defeat of the four-power treaty.

Angell is a man whose opinions merit respectful consideration. Among his works the book called "The Great Illusion," although not the most recent, probably is the most widely known. The illusion which the title mentions was cherished to a larger extent then than now. It was the belief that war could advantage any participant, or settle any controversy. The author implied that he did not regard war as possible, basing his theory on the enormous cost, and the evident futility. In this particular he erred, there having been more fools in authority than he had surmised.

The present contention of Angell is that the war did not conclude anything. He sees in the pooling of the powers of nations, the only way out of world troubles. The four-power treaty he regards as a step in the right direction. Therefore, in common with all but the yellow press, and a handful of agitators, he favors the compact. In his opinion Japan and Russia are destined to fight out the issues existing and growing between them.

It is possible to conceive a conflict of these two, reaching in itself huge proportions, and yet with all other powers standing aloof. But this possibility seems to exist only, with the attendance of the circumstance, that the other powers are under bonds to maintain peace as among themselves. Honorable peoples would regard the pending treaty as such a bond. Thus in its adoption seems to lie safety, and in no other status does there appear promise of continued peace anywhere.

PRETENSE AS A WEAPON

Senator Borah insists that there is a secret understanding between the United States and England. According to this they are to act in concert in any emergency, apparently to the breaking of faith with Japan! The yellow press echoes Borah, or he echoes the yellow press. No matter which way the relationship runs. It is the question of priority as between the chicken and the egg, over again.

The authority quoted by Borah is a New York attorney, Paul D. Cravath. The attorney denies that he ever uttered a word that could be construed in this fashion. Borah's allegation he declares to be contrary to anything ever believed by him, much less said by him. Possibly this will influence Borah to recant. He may be enough of a gentleman to admit his mistake. No similar effect is expected to be observed in the conduct of the yellow press. Pleased with the false assertion, it continues to repeat it.

Hoover has been speaking in favor of the four-power treaty. He says it will pass, and shows the vital importance of passing it. Other men of high caliber and standing are for the treaty. To the bitter end Borah and his yellow backers will be against it. They never know anything but a bitter end, because, always being wrong, there is no other sort of finish for them.

MOB METHODS

Texas is among the states suffering from the presence of mob rule. Certain elements there are banded for purposes that have not been made quite clear. They assume the right to drive residents away, or to beat them, or treat them to tar and feathers. They have committed many outrages. They make the statement that they are engaged in enforcing the law, the truth being that they are engaged in breaking it.

The action of a mob that has been called into existence by some particular deed horrifying to a community, may be understood. It is an angry and unreasoning rabble. It is cowardly in that no member of it expects to be held responsible. Such a body hardly is an organization. There is no deliberation back of its crimes. It might be called into being once, and then be in evidence no more for years.

The Texas mob is more of a menace. It has not been caused by a sudden wave of anger provoked by depravity. It has been formed with the perfect knowledge that all its activities must be illegal, and every overt punishment inflicted by it, in itself an outrage against society, and defiant of the statutes.

Since the commission of certain acts of violence by a uniformed company of marauders, these acts taking the form of lynching, the parent organization devoted to misrule and violence, has offered a reward for apprehension of the offenders. It desires the public to understand that while lynching is proper and even admirable, that no mere imitators are to be allowed to engage in it. Its own facilities for mob work are unsurpassed, and it does not care to have amateurs infringing.

SLURS FROM IGNORANCE

A Portland, Me., paper announces that moving picture companies continue to be organized in that state, adding smartly: "But we trust the day is far distant when our beloved state will be known as the Hollywood of the East."

This is a sample of the slurs that have been passed around by persons ignorant of the character of Hollywood. It shows the stupidity of assuming to possession of knowledge. Belief based upon falsehood, gossip or upon slanderous effort to injure a business and a community, is far from being knowledge.

The truth concerning Hollywood is that it is a beautiful little city, officially a part of Los Angeles, and yet very individual in its characteristics. It is a place of many homes notable for the charm of their setting and the artistry of the builder. Many wealthy men have selected it out of all the scenic area available in this region, as the fairest they could find. It is a place of schools, of churches, of sobriety and good order. Considering the number of its residents, it is singularly free from crime. Its police have comparatively little to do.

While thousands who are glad to live in Hollywood have no connection with the moving picture business, there are other thousands who earn their livings by hard work in this great industry. They have been brought by the opportunity from all parts of the country. Cities, jealous or uninformed, sneer at the morals of Hollywood, which are on a higher level than their own. To the personnel of the movie colony, all these cities have contributed.

Millions of people throughout the United States feel as though they were acquainted with every film actor or actress of note. With eagerness they read all the gossip concerning their screen favorites. Hence the conduct of such stars in every relation of life takes on an exaggerated importance. Movie folks are not different from other human beings. They have their ambitions, their quarrels, their family rows. Perhaps not all of them concede that prohibition prohibits them. In every city the prohibition law is violated. In every city there are divorces. Into every walk of life is thrust the figure of scandal. When the movie person happens to be shown in a bad light, the whole country regards the affair as personal. Stories, that did they concern an ordinary citizen would not be worth telling outside an intimate circle, have only to concern an attache of the movies, to be heralded to the four corners of the earth, gathering volume, detail and emphasis as they go.

Efforts to injure Hollywood are silly and must be ineffective. It is natural, however, to feel irritated over them.

THEY DIE HARD

A correspondent named Nourse sends from Washington a telegram which appears in the yellow press under the caption: "Secret Pact Proved by Borah."

Nourse is a good reporter when in the mood. It is not to be assumed that he sent the item because it is true, or because he thought it true. Doubtless he sent it in accord with instructions.

Senator Borah did make the charge of a "secret pact." In his public career he has made other baseless charges. It is doubtful if he ever made another so instantly and completely refuted as the one under consideration. Usually the Borah sophistry is astutely enough framed to give his utterances the aspect of sincerity. It is to be assumed that as a rule he believes what he says, his peculiar faith in folly being due to a mental twist, or an unconquerable aversion to agreeing with a majority. In the present instance it was impossible to think that Borah believed himself. He may be accused of an almost unprecedented stupidity, but he could not be so stupid as to even vaguely hope himself to be right this time. His intelligence must be given some credit.

Against the unsupported word of Borah is that of President Harding, Secretary Hughes and others of correspondingly respectable standing. Before these had spoken, Hearst had declared that a secret pact existed. Such backing would have been fatal to the Borah averment, even had men of standing not said a word concerning the issue.

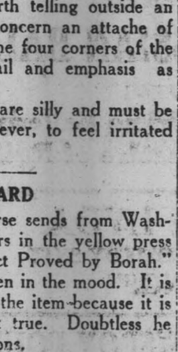
Is it not true that a man would rather patronize an excursion boat than paddle his own canoe?

GORGING

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A recent writer describes the gorging of birds.

"Many birds," he says, "will eat their own weight of food in a day; the robin will devour with ease twice its own weight of food each twenty-four hours.



DR. FRANK CRANE

"If we fared in the same proportion, we should commence the day with two sides of bacon for breakfast, helped along with four loaves. For lunch we should consume forty pounds of beef, half a bushel of potatoes, four more loaves, twelve large apple puddings, and a few pounds of cheese.

"Tea would consist of six loaves and four large cakes, while we should finish the day with a dinner consisting of five courses each weighing about twelve pounds.

"The kingfisher goes one better. Each day it eats about three times its weight of food. I have been concealed within a few feet of one of these birds and watched it capture fish after fish. Some of these were nearly half the length of the bird, and it was a puzzle to me how it managed to get them all down. Certainly, after it had had three or four it seemed to be suffering from the most intense indigestion, for with head turned on to its back, eyes closed, and all its feathers ruffled, it looked the picture of misery. Twenty minutes later it sat up, shook its feathers into position, opened its eyes, and became the keen, eager fisher once more."

There are some human beings who try to emulate the birds. It would not be so bad if these human beings lived outdoors as the birds do and led a life of incessant activity.

But the fact is that in our conditions of civilization the aim of those who care to conserve their health should be to eat as little as possible.

The life of the great Venetian Cornaro is a classic instance in this respect. Although broken down by excesses in middle life, he reformed, adopted the rule of eating almost nothing at all, and lived to an extremely old age.

There are few diseases that cannot be cured by intelligent abstinence.

For every person who is undernourished in civilized society there are a hundred who are suffering from one complaint or another because they eat too much.

The amount of food supposed to be consumed at an ordinary table d'hote is amazing. It is at least ten times as much as any one needs.

The whole thing is a matter of habit. We can get used to eating little or to eating much.

And if one reduces his diet to the minimum consistent with strength he has greatly increased the chances in favor of health.

It is true that the buzzard gorges his food and gets away with it. But why be a buzzard?

THE LISTENING POST

Spring blossoms.

Something wakens within the limb or stalk or stem.

The sap begins to stir, as Bliss Carman says in that delightful poem of his.

And why the sap begins to stir is one of the secrets of nature.

It is an impulse that thrills in the roots and trunk and limb and stem.

Something quickens.

Awakens.

Just as in the spirits of people sometimes.

* * *

The genius for instance.

Something quickens.

Some impulse demands hearing.

There is a blossoming of idea or thought.

And we marvel at the wonder and beauty of it.

* * *

For there are marvels through the world without number.

Not miracles.

Because the miracle is a distinct departure from natural law or force.

The growth of a rose is marvelous.

But not miraculous.

Because roses grow from rose bushes by a definite and ordered law or rule or force or impulse.

* * *

But if a rose grew from a paving stone, that would be miraculous.

Because roses do not naturally grow from paving stones.

Unless there chances to be earth and seed between the stones.

The great soul quickens.

With an impulse.

The sap of imagination or sympathy or resolve begins to stir.

Just as in the souls of the great of the world.

And the impulse that sets the sap stirring brought forth beauty.

A dead limb to all appearances.

Dull and without movement.

All through the winter it has rested.

As might a body in a trance.

And then Spring.

Impulse.

Stirring sap.

A bit of movement.

A slight rending of the bark of the limb.

The peeping forth of the tiniest shoot of green.

And then growth.

Opening.

Blossom and beauty and fragrance.

Whence?

From the earth and the air and the fibre all strangely transmuted into flower and beauty.

A spring blossom.

Marvelously created by nature out of the elements she has at hand.

* * *

And your spirit perhaps.

It may have lain dormant.

Without impulse.

Content merely to abide.

And then comes impulse.

A quickening.

The spirit of you awakens.

* * *

Spring blossoms of deeds.

Of thoughts and impulses and desires and at last of fulfilment.

All through the strange quickening of spirit.

As with the leaves and stems and flowers and limbs in the spring.

* * *

Life with all of us has its winter days.

And its springtime.

Days of dullness and chill and dreariness.

Then the coming of the impulse.

A quickening and stirring of sap.

* * *

Out of it all beauty.

Deeds done and words spoken and happiness brought and help rendered.

Spring blossoms of the spirit.

SONGS OF THE POETS

The Child's Wish Granted—George Parsons Lathrop (1851-1898)

Do you remember, my sweet, absent son,
How in the soft June days forever done
You loved the heavens so warm and clear and high;
And when I lifted you, soft came your cry—
"Put me 'way up—'way, 'way up in the blue sky."

I laughed and said I could not;—set you down,
Your gray eyes wonder-filled beneath that crown
Of bright hair gladdening me as you raced by.
Another Father now, more strong than I,
Has borne you voiceless to your dear blue sky.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

SOLEMN HOUR FOR SENATE

[Washington Star]

The four-power treaty and the other conference agreements may not be an assurance of a peaceful future, but they constitute the most practical and most promising step in that direction mankind has ever taken. Their rejection will amount almost to assurance of future wars. It is between these alternatives—the promise of peace and the continued expectation of and preparation for war—that senators must choose. Theirs is the responsibility and from it there is no escape.

To that responsibility they will be held by millions of mothers the world over who mourn for slaughtered sons. They will be held to it by scores of thousands of young Americans, maimed and broken in the "war to end wars." They must answer for it to the children of today, who will be the men to fight a future war, and the wives and mothers to endure its agonies. And their responsibility still will run to generations yet unborn, for if this effort at the prevention of wars shall fail, "who can hope to succeed?"

That responsibility will be heavy on the minds and hearts of senators when they come to vote, and surely on that fateful day no petty things will sway them. They will rise above resentments of the past and the vanities of the present; each will search deeply his own conscience, and those who hold to prayer will pray fervently for guidance. For it is a solemn hour in the history of the world, and the senate of the United States has a solemn part to play.

FOR SIMPLE MINDS

[New York Commercial]

It certainly begins to look as if the only way to reach the understanding of some of these senators is to write our treaties in words of one syllable, words that are incapable of more than one meaning, no matter what distorted intelligences are brought to bear on them. But if these senators have no common sense of their own perhaps the people in the states they misrepresent have enough common sense and enough backbone to write to them and tell them in pretty plain language what is expected of them. Here we have the greatest chance to ensure world peace that we have evr had, and yt it is being jeopardized by a handful of crossroads statesmen.

Let the people of those states speak up and tell these senators not to disgrace the United States in the eyes of the whole civilized world.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART

And just as we had thought our troubles were on the decrease comes Mr. Edison with his prediction that all minor noises of nature will soon be amplified by certain apparatus so that they may be easily heard! Of course, there might be a haunting, lilting melody in the song of the angleworm, or the soft cadence of the ant's voice. We may learn that what now is to our ears but a tiresome, aggravating buzz of fly or bee is in reality a harmonious sonata of wondrous charm when once the minor chords become recognizable.

But what of the man on the floor above who is practising on the saxophone; the maiden in the flat across the street who has ambitions to be an opera singer; the little girls below whose mother insists on two hours of piano practice each day? How embarrassing to the lovers who vainly try to whisper sweet nothings in tones which the stern parents in the next room cannot hear? What about the curtain lectures and wifely admonitions that would become common property of every one in the vicinity?

And where would be the refuge of the man who comes home late at night with the intention of persuading friend wifie that it is only 10 p. m.? Her sound amplifiers, firmly set in place at going to bed time, would mingle the sounds of the early rising worm and the early singing birds with the thunder of halting footsteps on the stair after the loud banging of the night key in its slot. Hubby would have absolutely no refuge but the plain, unadulterated truth.

Truly these scientists will have to be cured. Else will life no longer be worth the living.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Los Angeles is a large city, and perhaps understands its own business. Nevertheless, it has been known to err and seems to be in danger of doing so again. It threatens to place a large public library in the little breathing space known as Pershing square.

HENRY JAMES

This would greatly reduce the utility of the square as a park. As it is the only such place in the business section; as other cities are creating parks in built-up districts at great expense; as all city planners are emphatic in advocating an abundance of park space, it would seem as though the council over there might have learned something.

A public library is a necessity, but its real merit lies in its content and not its housing. The plentitude of books is far more important than the particular method by which the books are sheltered. Good books in a loft under the eaves would constitute a good library.

Any council that would permit the ruination of Pershing square for the sake of putting a library there, no occasion existing for choice of such a site, may be sure of the condemnation of all who love to see a city grow aright. The city may have a library by renting quarters. If it injects a huge structure into Pershing square, it can't get a down town park by any method. Better no library building than no park.

A woman employed as a prohibition enforcement agent in San Francisco is in trouble which she seems to have earned. It is said that under pretense of illness she induced a bell boy and the elevator man at her hotel to procure her a drink. Then she arrested them for violation of the law.

Doubtless they were guilty, but in a far less degree than the woman. She was the instigator of the crime. Her appeal to the masculine sense of gallantry made her act peculiarly contemptible.

The apparent intention of the "small army and navy" men to deprive both branches of the service of all possibility of usefulness, is surprising. It had not been known that even small men could be quite so small.

According to the treaty, the navy was to be cut to a stated number of vessels. The natual supposition was that the vessels to be retained would be permitted to have crews. It appears that the tiny souls of the opposition in congress object to this. They plan to banish the effective personnel, to utterly destroy morale, and to reduce the navy to a condition where the ships will have nothing to do but collect barnacles. By this methods the country soon would have neither a navy nor the nucleus of a navy.

It is to be regretted that there should have been necessary an order barring women from a New York court room. The case on trial there promised to be debasing, filthy and repellent. To certain females this seems to have rendered it attractive. They were turned from the door and departed lamenting.

That men should crowd in also is deplorable, but the men who want to do this, it may be taken for granted, are too decadent morally to be injured by the experience.

According to a woman reputed to be beautiful, beauty is a handicap instead of an asset. Probably she does not believe this herself. If she did she would make no effort to keep her looks up to a high standard.

Beauty per se, is no handicap. In combination with brainlessness, however, it constitutes a very poor working capital.

There is great ado being made about the wickedness of Boston. It arises from the circumstance that a fool girl committed suicide, and a Tech student, likewise scrambled as to brain, took a dose of the same poison, and followed her trail.

The pair had been moving in swift company, such as may be found in any city. Just why they chose suicide does not appear. If that was their idea of having a good time, there is no particular reason why survivors should make a fuss. But a city should not be condemned by reason of the conduct of a pair of gin-inspired morons.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM

Maybe the porter had kidney feet. Or, perhaps, he had family worries. Anyhow, he walked around the smoker this morning with a scowl on his face. When I asked him to bring me a cigar he did so without a word.

"Here's a dime," I said. I'm low that way. I'm cunning. I had always rather have people pleasant to me than the reverse. I am willing to lower myself in their eyes by being common and chatty rather than stand on a dignity that perhaps I haven't got. The porter took the dime without a look my way or a word.

"That bird," said the man in the next seat, "is riding for a fall."

In the talk that followed I learned that one of his duties as an employe of one of the big railroads is to scout for smiles. It isn't so many years ago that this road was one of the world's rottenest. It was a joke on the vaudeville stage. The Hebrew comedian used to say to his partner that he wanted to go to Chipmunk Centre the worst way.

"Take the Steam Hatchet line," his partner would say. And the audience always laughed. The audience knew what the Steam Hatchet road could do in the way of bad curves and bone-shaking roadbeds. Those physical defects have been cured, but the road found it still had a bad name to live down. So its officials devised a plan to make friends of its public. They decided to teach their men to smile.

"Always be courteous and friendly," they said to the road's employes.

They always are. When I was a kid I quit riding on this road. For years I have taken any other road by preference. I had rather travel behind a lame ox, I said. But there came a day, a year or so ago, when I could find no other lame ox going my way, and very reluctantly I bought a ticket.

And every man on the road acted as though we belonged to the same lodge. The ticket agent put himself out to get me just the accommodations I wanted. The conductor smiled at me when he took my ticket up. The porter wore a wide grin. The dining car men saw to it that I got what I wanted and the way I wanted it. They brought me extra syrup for my wheatcakes and more cream for my coffee, and then more coffee for my cream. They "sold" the road to me.

In the year past I have given that road $200 I might just as well have given other roads. I'll keep on giving my money to the road with a smile until the other lines learn that politeness pays.

TUJUNGA STAGE LINE CHANGES ITS NAME

Mass Meeting of Water Users to Be Held Next Tuesday Night

TUJUNGA, March 25.—The Richardson Transportation company, through its owner, A. J. Richardson, has applied to the railroad commission for authority to transfer the business to the Verdugo Hills Transportation company. The last named company joins with Richardson in the application and ask for authority to issue 3100 shares of its common capital stock in payment for the property involved.

Stage service is now proving very satisfactory. Additional runs have been added so that stages leave Tujunga and Los Angeles almost every hour.

Mass Meeting Tuesday.

Next Tuesday evening at Bolton hall a mass meeting of water users will be held to discuss the proposed increase in water rates. E. C. Carlson, chairman of the standing committee on water of the chamber of commerce, was instructed at the last meeting of the chamber to solicit funds and engage counsel to represent local water users at the hearing of the rate application before the railroad commission in April. The hearing is to be held in Los Angeles.

A great deal of opposition to the proposed increase was voiced at the last chamber of commerce meeting. Citizens opposing the raise contend that the new figures mean almost doubling the present rates with no promise of increased service.

The Haines Canyon Water company, which supplys the community, claims that it is operating at a loss, and that to meet the demand for increased service higher rates must be charged. The company now supplys over 1100 consumers and has invested $72,000 in the business during the past three years. It is believed that a new well and pumping plant to cost $9000 will soon be necessary. In order to raise the money to make these improvements the company contends that it must be able to show that its business is being run at a profit and that it is paying interest on its bonds.

Notice of the rate hearing is to be mailed to each consumer with the next month's water bills.

Builder Here

R. C. Godfrey, a Hollywood builder, is preparing to erect a home on property he owns on East El Centro street. Mr. Godfrey is a builder of ten years' experience and has come to Tujunga with the belief that conditions here are among the best to be found in the country.

A community sing was held on Thursday night at the school house following a chili bean supper served by members of the Parent-Teacher association. The menu for the supper included chili beans, salad, crackers, dessert and coffee.

THE COUNTRY'S CALL

When the summer winds come sighing and the smell of chicken frying bring a zest that's somewhat trying to my waiting appetite;
When the sunshine spills its laughter on the red barn's roof and rafter and the shower that comes after brings a cool and peaceful night.
When the bumble bee goes tippling where the clover field is rippling and the pungent pen of Kipling would be lulled to sleepy lays,
Then I want some farm commission to explain why my position is not that of life Elysian on the balmy summer days.

When the kitchen maid is rumpling up the dough for pie and dumpling and the lettuce fresh and crumpling on the platter deftly lays,
To receive the smoking chicken and my pulses throb and quicken when I see the gravy thicken while the stirring spoon she plays;
When the corn is white and steaming on the platter and my dreaming is of baked potatoes creaming into fluff before my eyes;
Will some farm commission show me what the gods or fates may owe me when the green turf is below me and my canopy the skies?

When the cherry blossoms feather on the trees and when the weather splices all the days together with the odors of the spring,
When the sap of earth is stirring and the home-come birds are whirring and my eyes with gladness blurring in their joy at every thing;
Then I feel a thrill of pity for the naked, naked city, and I think what wondrous wit he had who first from tribe or clan,
Went a-field from cave made gory with the blood of beasts, found glory in the soil and learned the story of the country gentleman!

DOLLAR CLINK IS KNELL OF ARTIST SAYS STAR

Realto Stock Leading Woman Says Wise Things of Art

Glendale has "stage struck" girls and boys for the same reason that there are countless hundreds in Los Angeles, New oYrk, Chicago, San Francisco and "Timbucktoo," and there will continue to be so long as romance and a "dream world" is in existence.

Where there once was a girl or boy who longed to tread the theatrical boards, thousands followed for each such since the development of moving pictures, but for the last year, so authorities state, the trend has been in the direction of the spoken drama.

"The camera has had no charms for me," states Miss Audra Alden, the vivacious little star who comes to Glendale with the Rialto Stock company next Monday to a Press reporter, "and I am content to continue in my 'speaking stage' work for numerous reasons," continued the auburn-haired young lady.

"The young people of Glendale are no different from those of any other community so far as the stage or screen is concerned, and I hope to meet any such during our engagement here. If these were no 'stage struck' we would soon cease having actors and actresses, and surely this would take much from higher civilization.

"Recently much has been written and said of the temptations of this class of work, yet, it resolves itself primarily into a home condition. Those who are attracted to theatrical work as a mere means of money making cannot reach a lofty artistic plane, and it is to be regretted that the dollar-mark appears to be the distinction of success in and out of the profession."

It is likely, Miss Alden will be seen in some of her starring successes during her stay in Glendale, and which embraces such pronounced hits as "The Brat," "Peg O' My Heart," "The Blindness of Virtue," "Miss Lulu Bett," "Jerry," etc.

TOWNLEY SEEKS TO RECOVER POWER IN DAKOTA

Non-Partisan League Is Fighting for Return in Convention

FARGO, N. D., March 25.—national non-partisan league as a politoical party, or balance of power organization, is the issue before the state convention here today.

The Farmers' party which startled the country through its sensational capture of the republican party machinery in North Dakota in 1916 and which reached the zenith of its power there in 1918 with the control of all state offices except one, and both houses of the legislature, all but collapsed last fall with the recall of the administration—the governor, attorney general, and commissioner of agriculture and labor, the three who formed the commission that controlled the industrial.

Three factions are striving for supremacy. For the past three months the nonpartisans have, in their own words, been "cleaning house. Men who fought side by side during the pioneer days are today turning their weapons on each other. "Traitor" and "czar" were frequent missiles hurled back and forth in the preconvention fight. Out of closets have been haulel old skeletons and the public has been entertained with "inside stories." Democrats and republicans, anxious to discard the emergency fusion party and get back on peace time basis of separate tickets, are afraid to act until sure the old enemy is dead.

The founder and national president, A. C. Townley, who dominated the party until early in 1921, when he was supplanted by the state executive committee, was preparing to leave for Jackson, Minn., to serve a 90 days' term for alleged seditions utterances, when the recall beat his party. He declared that when he got out, he was coming back to North Dakota and reorganize the party. His plan as first promulgated, was to have the league merely endorse, not nominate, candidates, but Townley later modified his recommendations to "refrain from nominating candidates for governor, attorney general and senator."

Townley's hope lies in regaining his hold through his magnetic oratory, stampeding the convention. He has been traveling over the state for some weeks.

The second factor is William Lemke, vice president of the national organization and for years, the legal mind, elected attorney general of North Dakota in 1920. Lemke is opposed to the balance of power plan.

The third party and apparently the group in the ascendancy is the executive committee of the nonpartisan league, elected by the membership and backed by the league organ, the Daily Courier-News of Fargo. The committee men from the first fought the balance of power scheme and believes it means wrecking of the league. They charge Townley, in trying to keep the league from nominating a candidate for senatorship, is working with P. J. McCumber, North Dakota senator and stalwart republican, who seeks re-election.

The democrats and republicans will forget their other grievances and unite against the non-partisans if the latter set their house in order today and choose a ticket.

A Year Ago Today

From the Glendale Daily Press of March 25, 1921.

The zoning ordinance of the city of Glendale was referred to City Attorney Hartley Shaw for redrafting. This new form of the ordinance will be presented to the board of trustees at their next meeting.

Announcement is made of the Grand Ball to be given by Glendale Lodge No. 1289 B. P. O. Elks to help raise funds for entertainment during the convention of the Grand Lodge in Los Angeles in July. The ball will be given on the stage of the Brunton Studio in Hollywood.

Business by the board of trustees of the city of Glendale was hurried through last night by that body which was anxious to accept the invitation of William Hall, manager of the Glendale theater to be his guests at the showing of the picture. "The Wonderful Chance," by H. H. Van Loan, a resident of Glendale.

Members of the chamber of commerce gathered last night in the cafeteria of the Glendale high school for dinner and the first evening forum, a monthly affair. There were approximately 100 guests present at the dinner.

There was a great commotion on deck. Feet ran to and fro. Then there was a grinding sound, and the engines seemed to stop. The timid passenger rushed from his cabin and almost collided with the captain.

"Whatever has happened?" he asked.

"Be prepared for the worst," said the captain, sternly.

"Wh—where are the life preservers?"

"They'll be no good to you now," said the captain. "We've done all we can. From now on you must look out for yourself."

He led the timid one to the side of the deck.

"Now you can see," he said. "It's every one for himself."

The timid one hid his eyes with his hands and began to tremble.

"No, no," he cried, "tell me what has happened?"

"We're in harbor," said the captain.

Only half-baked men are likely to get "hard-boiled."
